About Avionics

Avionics Exhibition and Conference is the annual European meeting place where Avionics professionals from the major airlines, systems integrators and project managers can meet suppliers and manufacturers of avionics kit and testing equipment.

Exhibition

A record 75 exhibitors are expected to be reached with specialists covering a range of disciplines ranging from displays, instruments, connectors, software/hardware, switches and much more. There will also be the opportunity to test two simulators onsite in the Netherlands Aerospace Group Pavilion.

A FREE to attend by all Networking Drinks Reception will be held on the 7th March at 17:30. Conference Delegates and Exhibitors will receive FREE drinks vouchers.

Civil Conference

The Federal Aviation Administration will present on improving cockpit communications and will look at the human factor of safety and avionics where a study of accidents and incidents will reveal examples.

Military Conference

Dr Robert Dewar, will look at open source software safety-critical and secure applications while David Culpin from DSTL Air and Weapon Systems will look at the modern day war fighting trials such as the Joint Expeditionary force and what they are revealing.

COTS/Embedded Conference

An interesting combined presentation titled: AMBERS: Improving Requirements Specification through Assertive Models and SCADE/ Doors Integration will be looked at from Marcelin Fortes da Cruz, Airbus and Paul Raistrick of Esterel Technologies.
